District Guard Now Plans to Make Drive for Recruits on the Day of Registration

Plans are being formulated by Brig. Gen. William E. Harvey, commanding the National Guard of the District of Columbia, for the recruitment campaign June 5, the registration day and army draft law, which it is hoped will result in the organization up to war strength. The campaign is to be made through the entire National Guard which still retain their National Guard status.
It is proposed to have a recruiting party stationed at every one of the registration offices during the day. An effort is to be made to have at least one officer in each of the recruiting parties. The 3d Infantry, N. G. D. C., will have a recruiting party for the units of the District Guard which have not been called into federal service will be permitted to concentrate their efforts on the stations where they believe the best results can be accomplished.

Confers With Col. Young.

Gen. Harvey had a conference yesterday afternoon with Col. Glendie B. Young, commanding the 3d Regiment, and discussed the plans for the recruiting rally. Arrangements have been made to have all of the members of the recruiting details furnished with a supply of folders setting forth the advantages of membership in the District National Guard as a volunteer and giving a brief outline of the various units composing the guard. The folder will be illustrated with photographs showing the life of District guardsmen on the Mexican border last summer.

"I believe we will be able to bring the District guard up to war strength without having to resort to the draft to fill the ranks," said Gen. Harvey today. "When the men of the District National Guard are called into federal service they will be called on to do the need this country has for soldiers that they ever have before. The act of registering will bring them into the realization that those who are within the age limits and who will not be exempted by reason of the causes named by the President will be conscripted into the military service. I feel sure they will then and there decide that it will be to their advantage to volunteer for service in the District National Guard, their home guard, rather than to serve in the army to be formed by conscription. In the District guard they will serve with men whom they know and officers whom they know. Such service is the most attractive kind."

Banks to Be Filled First.

Gen. Harvey said today that under no circumstances will any new units of the District guard be organized until the existing ones have been brought up to war strength, with the exception of such units as have been designated by the War Department. These include two more batteries of artillery, two more troops of cavalry and another company of coast artillery.

Concerning the plan to organize another company of Signal Corps troops, Gen. Harvey said there is no authorization for such a unit at this time, and that if the War Department follows the plan it has announced with regard to the District guard it will not authorize another Signal Corps company until all the other units of the guard are up to the required strength.

No Man Who Comes Within Age Limits Fixed by Law Exempt From Registration

The question most frequently asked regarding conscription registration is, "Must I register?" The following queries and answers show that no man between the ages of twenty-one and thirty-one is exempt.
Q.—Will you kindly mail me a registration card so that I can register from Brooklyn as an absentee?
A.—No one can receive registration cards from any source except the city clerk of the town in which he happens to be, or the sheriff of the county. No registration card can be accepted on registration day unless filled in by the properly designated and sworn registrars.

Q.—May I have a registration card to fill in myself?
A.—No. Such a card so filled in would be invalid. Only a registrar can fill in the cards.

Q.—How will I get a registration card filled in? I am in the absence class.
A.—Apply to room 509, District building, where a registrar will take care of your case.

Q.—I will be twenty-one years old on June 14. I would like to register in order to place myself on record.
A.—No. You are under the age limit. You may volunteer for the army or navy if you wish to go on record.

Q.—I am a British subject, twenty-seven years of age, a soldier in the Canadian army. Must I register?
A.—Yes. Every one must register who is in the United States on June 5 and is within the designated area, irrespective of his nationality or allegiance.

Nobleman Not Exempt.

Q.—I am a Scottish nobleman. Must I register on June 5?
A.—Yes. Your class makes no difference if you are of military age.

Q.—I am a Syrian by birth, having been in this country five years. I am studying for the clergy. No one at the city hall of Alexandria could tell me if I must register. Must I?
A.—Yes. All persons must register who are of military age.

Q.—I live on Fessenden street, which is the boundary between precincts 72 and 73. I live on the west side of the street. Where will I register?
A.—You must register in 72. The middle of the street is the boundary, not any side of it.

Q.—I have no permanent residence and claim none anywhere in the United States. Although I am twenty-five years old, I have never been in one place long enough to vote. Must I register, and where?
A.—Yes, you must register in the domiciliary precinct where you happen to be residing on June 5.

Q.—I am under severe physical disability. May I have an opportunity to state my case and give letters from my physician before registration day?
A.—The registration registrar is not concerned with your state of health. If you claim exemption on that ground you will have the opportunity to state it to the registrar, who will make a note of it. The exemption board will call on you on June 14.

Q.—I am a criminal in jail. Must I register?
A.—Yes. Your warden will register you.

Q.—I am a government clerk. Where must I register?

A.—Register in that place which you consider your permanent home.

Q.—I was born in the District of Columbia. I have lived abroad almost ever since. Where will I register?
A.—You will register in the District if you happen to be there on June 5. If not, register wherever you will be.

Mapmaker Must Register.

Q.—I am engaged in making maps for the War Department. Will I be exempt from service or registration, or both?
A.—No one is exempt from registration. Whether service is a matter for the War Department to settle later.

Q.—I am a resident of Washington. I will be absent on June 5. How may I register?
A.—Register as an absentee, by mail. Consult the city clerk or county sheriff of the place where you now are.

Q.—I shall be thirty-one years old on June 5. Must I register?
A.—No. The law says "those who have not attained their thirty-first birthday on or before June 5."

Letters Found in the Mails

Urge Refusal to Register

Letters and literature urging non-compliance with the registration law have been discovered in the mails. These letters are regarded as unlawful, in some instances as treasonable. The Department of Justice has applied itself to the task of running down those responsible, and indictments may be returned against the authors of the propaganda.

Dr. Henry Vanduyke, former American minister to the Netherlands, has arrived in New York from England.

Mobilizing Shipbuilders.

Men Wanted to Build 3,000 Vessels for Transatlantic Service.

C. T. Clayton of the federal employment service has been selected to direct the organization work in connection with the mobilization of American labor in shipyards to carry forward the shipping board plan of constructing 3,000 steel and wooden ships to run the German blockade.
Officials of Columbia University, N. Y., have offered to supply 1,000 trained men. Polytechnic Institute, Brooklyn, offered 500 men. Institutions throughout the United States will be urged to establish night classes to equip men for practical service as ship carpenters, calkers and joiners.

Department Clerks and Draft.

To the Editor of The Star:
Wherein does the fact of employment by the United States government constitute honest grounds for a claim of exemption from service under the so-called draft law? Why should the government make employ of this or any other city be released from active service? Why should the clerk, the grocery clerk, the drug clerk, or any clerk, lay aside his peaceful occupation for that of a soldier while thousands of male clerks are left at home to fill positions which can be filled by girls and women? The plea that to call upon the male clerks would demoralize the service is poppycock pure and simple, as the women could learn the duties of the vacated positions long before September 1. It is the duty of every man to respond to the call of his country. He does not let the government be the first to furnish an excuse for "slackers." This does not apply to officials whose duties require exceptional ability plus long training.
